

MATHS WEBSITES

<http://www.starmathgames.com/> : lots of games covering all areas of mathematics.

<http://www.woodlands-junior.kent.sch.uk/maths/> : a school website with great revision coverage, SATs revision and lots of links to external website for online games and activities.

<http://www.mad4maths.com/> : great website with lots of games in all areas of mathematics. Parents help section covering methods of calculation, more on the national curriculum, how to help your child at home.

<http://www.coolmath4kids.com/> : thousands of games covering all areas of mathematics at different age levels.

<http://www.mathplayground.com/games.html> : many games covering all areas of mathematics at different age levels.

<http://www.multiplication.com/games> : range of lessons and games including multiplication, addition and subtraction. There are also online tests for all tables.

<http://www.mathszone.co.uk/> : brilliant website that links to lots of other resources for all ages.

<http://uk.ixl.com/> : lots of online questions/activities by year group.

<http://www.maths-games.org/> : lots of games for all ages.

<http://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/ks2/maths/>: lessons and online activities covering all areas of mathematics at KS2.

<http://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/ks1/maths/>: as above but for KS1.

<http://www.compare4kids.co.uk/maths.php>: a maths boot camp for Y6 revision, offering daily activities over a 5 week programme. Some elements can be accessed for free, to subscribe for a year costs £9.50.