

Word Smart Write a postcard to somebody as if you've been on holiday to Mexico. Write about the natural and physical geography you've seen? Have you eaten any new and exciting food? Did you see the Day of the Dead festivities? Remember to talk about your emotions! 	Picture Smart On an A4 piece of paper use pieces of wool, fabric or colouring pencils to design your own interpretation of a Zapotec Rug. 	People Smart- Communicating In Mexico the national language is Spanish. Can you come up with a list of words about school and then translate them into Spanish. They could be stationary, subjects or the times of the day. Be prepared to teach the class some of the Spanish you have learnt.
Nature Smart Design a poster or leaflet telling everyone about the animals that can be found living in Mexico. You can include pictures, maps, drawings and facts to bring your design to life!	Choose a project (or two) that matches your personal type of 'smart'. Bring your projects in as you complete them – we can't wait to see what you do!	Science Smart Can you build a Aztec Temple out of some of the everyday materials we have been learning about in class? Be prepared to explain why you chose those materials.
Body Smart Versions of Basketball have been played in Mexico since the Mayan Age. Football is also a really popular pass-time. Could you learn a new Basketball or Football Skill and record yourself doing it to show the class? 	Story Smart Can you write your own version of a traditional tale? Maybe you put a clever twist to your version. Could you also design a front cover for your story? Traditional Tales 	Quiz Smart Write a quiz about Mexico to test the class! The quiz can be up to ten questions long and linked to what we have been learning about in class.
